

This product is for the basis of every A20 board, the peripherals and functions might be accessed via the headers of the board. It is worth checking the A20-SOM-EXB which is an example of a top board (with almost all peripherals available).

